Waiting for new flats

Ronson is considering its first investment in Szczecin . The project would be another step in the geographical expansion of the company. The first stage of the investment, which would be built in a prestigious district of Szczecin, would include 82 flats. As in its other projects, has Ronson designed this project a big, wooden windows, spacious terraces, loggias and balconies. A final decision on whether to start the project will be taken before the end of this year.
