Rzeczpospolita – DOM / Housing boom

Despite the holiday atmosphere the past months of the year were successful for WSE-listed developers. Half of them managed to increase the number of apartments sold compared to the second quarter of this year. For the rest of them the reasons for the decline in sales were the holiday season and an often limited range of housing. The summer resulted in a change of leadership. The new leader will be either J.W. Construction or Dom Development—which one will be determined after the publication of quarterly results. Ronson ranked 6th, with 79 apartments sold in 3Q 2009. The journalist also wrote that Ronson wants to start 5 or 6 new projects, which will enlarge its offer to 300 - 500 apartments. Financing investments is still a problem for the whole real estate industry.
